How risky is it?

The value of the Fund can go down as well as up. You could lose money.

One way to gauge risk is to look at how much a fund's returns change over time. This is called "volatility."

In general, funds with higher volatility will have returns that change more over time. They typically have a greater chance of losing money and may have a greater chance of higher returns. Funds with lower volatility tend to have returns that change less over time. They typically have lower returns and may have a lower chance of losing money.

Risk rating

NCM Asset Management Ltd. has rated the volatility of this Fund as medium.

This rating is based on how much the Fund's returns have changed from year to year. It doesn't tell you how volatile the Fund will be in the future. The rating can change over time. A fund with a low risk rating can still lose money.

For more information about the risk rating and specific risks that can affect the Fund's returns, see "What are the Risks of Investing in the Fund?" section of the Fund's simplified prospectus.

Trading ETF Series

Exchange traded series hold a basket of investments, like mutual funds, but trade on exchanges like stocks. Here are a few things to keep in mind when trading exchange traded series:

Pricing

Exchange traded series have two sets of prices: market price and net asset value (NAV).

Market Price

- Exchange traded series are bought and sold on exchanges at the market price. The market price can change throughout the trading day. Factors like supply, demand, and changes in the value of a Fund's investments can effect the market price.
- You can get price quotes any time during the trading day. Quotes have two parts: bid and ask.
- The bid is the highest price a buyer is willing to pay if you want to sell your exchange traded shares. The ask is the lowest price a seller is willing to accept if you want to buy exchange traded shares. The difference between the two is called the “bid-ask spread”.
- In general, a smaller bid-ask spread means the exchange traded series is more liquid. That means you are more likely to get the price you expect.

Net asset value (NAV)

- Exchange traded series have a NAV. It is calculated after the close of each trading day and reflects the value of a Fund's investments at that point in time.
- NAV is used to calculate financial information for reporting purposes – like the returns shown in this document.

Orders

There are two main options for placing trades: market orders and limit orders. A market order lets you buy or sell exchange traded shares at the current market price. A limit order lets you set the price at which you are willing to buy or sell exchange traded shares.

Timing

In general, market prices of exchange traded series can be more volatile around the start and end of the trading day. Consider using a limit order or placing a trade at another time during the trading day.

Who is this Fund for?

This Fund is suitable for investors who:

- Wish to invest in global equities
- Want the potential for long term capital appreciation
- Are comfortable with medium investment risk (i.e. can tolerate volatility in the market value of your investment)

A word about tax

In general, you'll have to pay income tax on any money you make on a fund. How much you pay depends on the tax laws where you live and whether or not you hold the fund in a registered plan such as a Registered Retirement Savings Plan or a Tax-Free Savings Account.

Keep in mind that if you hold your fund in a non-registered account, fund distributions are included in your taxable income, whether you get them in cash or have them reinvested.

The fees and expenses, including any trailing commissions, can vary among series of a fund and among funds. Higher commissions can influence representatives to recommend one investment over another. Ask about other series, funds and investments that may be suitable for you at a lower cost.

*NCM Asset Management Ltd. waived some of the Fund's expenses. If it had not done so, the MER would have been higher.
